

Debian

Debian is a Linux based operating system that is used on the computers in the Learning Centre. It can be downloaded from here.

LibreOffice

LibreOffice is the free alternative to Microsoft Office. It can be downloaded for here.

Mozilla Firefox

Mozilla Firefox is the leading competitor to Internet Explorer. It claims to have better security and better customisation. It can be downloaded from here.

Google Chrome

Google Chrome is an internet browser from Google. It claims to be faster and simpler than either of the leading packages. It can be downloaded from here.

Inkscape

Inkscape is an open source vector graphics editor, available from here.

Gimp

Gimp is used for touching up photos and graphic designs. It is freely available from here.

Audacity

Audacity is a free multi-track sound editing program, used for sound recording and editing. Audacity can be downloaded here.

VLC

VLC is a free video player that claims to play anything, from DVDs and CDs to downloaded videos of any format. It can be downloaded from here.

Kompozer

Kompozer is an open source website editing package, ideal for non technical users. It can be downloaded from here.

Win FF

WinFF is a GUI for the command line video converter, FFmpeg. WinFF can convert a wide range of video and audio formats, and can do multiple files at once.